

Organizational Studies Minor

Organizational Studies is a multidisciplinary minor that analyzes the subject matter of organizations from different scholarly vantage points. The minor draws from Anthropology and Sociology, Economics, and Psychology courses, as well as classes offered by other academic departments and programs.

Students who pursue this minor will increase their capacity to engage effectively with organizations as citizens, employees, and stakeholders. They will study organizational theories, learn about the effects that organizations have on society, and consider multidisciplinary approaches to research on organizations.

Spring 2025 Course Offerings

A&S 217-01 Poverty in the United States	1:15 - 2:30 T R
A&S 220-01 Who Gets What & Why	2:45-4:00 T R
A&S 226-01 Race, Racism & Health in the US	9:30-10:45 T R
Econ 259 Financial Accounting	7:00-9:45 TH
Econ 337-01 Personnel Economics	1:15-2:30 M W
Econ 337-01 Personnel Economics	2:45-4:00 M W
ORGS 201-01 Intro to Organizational Studies	2:45-4:00 M W
PSYC 235-01 Social Psychology I	9:30-10:45 T TH
PSYC 270 Sports Psychology	11:00-12:15 T TH
GOVT 419 Global Governance	1:15-2:30 M W

Please contact Prof. David Shulman at shulmand@lafayette.edu with any questions about the Organizational Studies minor.